CHAIRMAN CLASHINGS.

PROSPECTIVE WRANGLING AMONG THE SENATE COMMITTEE.

Members, Sherman, Logan and Edmunds are central figures in the patronage of the Vice President—Mr. Cleveland's Journey in Doubt—Washington.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.—When the senate meets beside the embarrassment of reforming the committee so as to provide places of importance for Senator Logan, Senator Sherman has also a grievance which it will be difficult to overlook. When the committee were announced last March, shortly after the senate met in special session, Mr. Sherman's name was seconded in the finance committee. He openly said in the senate that he would not serve on that committee subordinate to Mr. Morrill, who has been the chairman since March, 1877, when Mr. Sherman left the senate to take the position of secretary of the treasury.

When Mr. Sherman succeeded to that chairmanship by the appointment of Mr. Fressenden as secretary of the treasury, he yielded the place promptly to Mr. Fressenden. When he again returned to the senate, Morrill, however, is not disposed to vacate Mr. Sherman or follow his example. The finance committee consists of eleven members, six of whom are Republicans and five Democrats. To omit Mr. Sherman's name from this committee would be practically to snub him. To keep it on the list would make a tie in all questions of importance, for Mr. Sherman will not, by any act, attend any of the meetings, and questions of importance are expected to come before the committee this winter.

Senator Sewall, of New Jersey, who hopes to be re-elected senator, his term expiring March 4, 1887, is anxious to keep the chairmanship of military affairs. The example of Senator Morrill encourages him to hold fast to the place, and the caucus committee appointed to rearrange the appointments are bound to make enemies whatever they may do.

Wherever, therefore, is elected president pro tem. of the senate is likely to find one of the grave gentlemen about his testicles ill will toward their senatorial neighbor, such a condition as existed when Senators Conkling, Blaine, Gordon and some others were members of this dignified body. As to Mr. Edmunds' behavior, he is never so well when exercising the duties of presiding officer of the senate. On that score, therefore, he would not be chosen. If again chosen he would also retain his place at the head of the judiciary committee, a membership of the former relations committee and continue to read the rules of the senate with a stern pedagogy to the messengers, clerks and senate officials generally.

The caucus committee of the senate will apparently be unanimous as to the Republi cause, but everybody knows that it will be a harmonious one on their part.

There have been but few indications appointed to office in Washington under the administration. The third auditor of the Post department, the only one of the only appointees so far, Mr. Lycurgus Dalton is the postmaster of the house. The vice president's patronage was limited to his secretary, messenger and page.

Formally he designated the restaurant keeper of the senate, but just before adjournment last session the committee on rules was, through its chairman, made responsible for the selection of the restaurant keeper. Senator Edmunds, however, when he was president pro tem, exercised a fatherly care over everybody and everything about the senate committee rooms.

Logan and Sherman. New York, Nov. 30.—The Sun's Washington special says: "The senator who is chosen president of the senate in all probability will preside over the joint session when the electoral vote is counted in 1888. That is why Republican senators are engaged in a movement to defeat Edmunds, the vice president, who, in case of a close contest and doubtful result, can be trusted to interpret the constitution to the Republicans."

"The Republican senators are still greatly displeased with Mr. Edmunds for his manner of declining the result of the vote for president on the 18th of February last when he presided at the official count. In announcing the result and concluding the session Mr. Edmunds used the following words: 'And the president of the senate make this declaration only as a public statement in the presence of the honorable members of the contents of the papers opened and read on this occasion and is not possessing any authority in law to declare any legal conclusion whatever.'"

The last letter. Washington, Nov. 30.—Mr. Hugh East, who was Mr. Hendricks' private secretary, received one of the last letters written by the deceased vice president. It was dated Nov. 28, and reached here Thursday, owing to its being a legal holiday, was not delivered. In it the vice president wrote:

He did not believe it was best for the president to leave Washington. Speaker Carlisle was dropped in while Mr. Edmunds was at the White House, the president said he had made his plans to go, but would consider the advice of his friends. It was said at the White House that Mr. Cleveland had not given up his purpose of going. Ex-Governor Curtis will call on him to urge him to remain in Washington.

STRIKING MINERS.

The Sheriff's Watch at Night—Mysterious Movements—Trouble ahead. COAL CREEK, Pa., Nov. 30.—All was very quiet in the Fourth pool, although much uneasiness and apprehension was felt. The sheriff's deputies were distributed in various places keeping guard, but few could but little to do. The company store at Snow Hill, near Lacynville, was closely guarded, as an attack was feared, but there was no attempt made to force an entrance there.

The sheriff and correspondent walked over the line of road visiting the various mines. Only a few diggers were seen for duty as strikers were on hand and no arrests have been made. The officers are now searching for a person or persons who have been identified. It is expected that some of them will be overhauled soon.

The disturbance was caused by men who are miners here and were apparently after a few miners who they had spotted previously, the latter, however, escaping injury.

Woods, Gregg and Nell's mines are still closed, but the operators say that they will be running in a few days.

It is rumored that the miners crossed the river at Fayette City into Fayette county, and will make a detour to Brownsville, coming down the Washington county side to the same mines and repeat their performance.

A crowd was seen making for the Snowden Hogg mines, near Brownsville. Sheriff Stirling, of Fayette county, went up the road, but as yet nothing is reported from him. There is talk of arresting those who have been making trouble, previous to the fight. The situation is very grave.

COUNT KOLA-INSKI.

A Priestly Noblemen charged With Various Misdemeanors—Laying Up Treasures. DUNROTH, Ill., Nov. 30.—Count Kola-inski is a Polish nobleman now in the prison here. He is pastor of the St. Albin's church, in which grave troubles have arisen. A complaint against him was made by a Catholic priest, who was charged with extorting money from his flock, and threatening them with direful punishment when they refused, and of using vulgar and carnal offenses with female members of the congregation.

Many of the affidavits are by married men. It is also alleged that the father is wrongfully laying up money to return to Greece, in Poland, and that he has contracted there for a number of years, plans and specifications of which, signed by the burgomaster of Grochow, have been seen in Detroit.

Bishop Burgess, when interviewed, declined to talk about the affair, which he has created excitement in Catholic circles.

Zolnowski, who is the chief complainant, is a man of wealth and prominence in the church, and declares he will take the case to Rome if necessary.

DOWN TO EARTH.

One Man Falls and carries Two More Down a shaft. New York, Nov. 30.—A horrible accident occurred at a mine called Morris, near New York, in Westchester county, near the line of the New York City and Northern railroad. While a number of workmen were descending a shaft, a distance of 100 feet, in his fall Edwards struck against a bucket which was coming up the shaft; and containing several workmen. The conclusion was reached that the bucket had fallen, and three James Burke, Michael Doyle and an Italian, name unknown, from the ascending car, and they, with Edwards, fell to the bottom of the shaft, a distance of 100 feet.

Edwards, Burke and Doyle were instantly killed, and the Italian sustained injuries which will probably prove fatal. His skull is fractured. Burke leaves a wife and child. Doyle was also a married man, and leaves a family in Ireland. Edwards leaves a wife in some part of Pennsylvania.

Discharged on the Spot.

CHICAGO, Nov. 30.—Frank H. Berry has been a better citizen for five years. In a street car he was heard to speak disrespectfully of the late vice president. A gentleman reported the fact to the police, and Superintendent Donovan, and Mr. Donovan went with the man to find the offender. Berry was confronted on the street while delivering mail, and was asked by the gentleman as the person who had made the objectionous and disrespectful remark. The carrier tried to apologize, but he was short by the indignant superintendent, who discharged him on the spot.

Broken Negotiations.

New York, Nov. 30.—A Philadelphia special to the Herald says that the negotiations between the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad company and the Pennsylvania Railroad company for the purchase of the latter's stock for the purpose of forming a new company, have been abandoned. It is said that this will not interfere with the issue of $4,500,000 worth of bonds upon the Baltimore & Ohio stock line by which it effects an entrance to Philadelphia.

"It Is Not True."

New York, Nov. 30.—It was rumored that Gould and Field had sold all their Manhattan elevated stock to Vanderbilt. A reporter asked the latter, "Is it true?" "It is not true," he replied. "It is not true. I never owned a share of elevated railroad stock in my life."

HE IS NOT THE ASSASSIN

AN INNOCENT MAN INCARCERATED IN THE TOMBS.

The "Boy Detective" Whose Information Was Slightly Deficient—A Score of Witnesses Who Bear Testimony to the Cigar-maker's Entire Innocence.

New York, Nov. 30.—Every man and boy employed in the cigar factory of Mendez & Jauregui, at No. 314 Washington street, Brooklyn, is talking about Augustine Rebell. Rebell is now in the Tombs charged with the murder of Antonio Solano, in the Spring street restaurant on November 2. It is upon the testimony of one boy that he is accused of the butchery, but to counteract this evidence of fully a score of men that he is innocent. Facing the statement of the boy and pitting it against the declarations of twenty reputable men, there arises a very strong suspicion that the juvenile delinquent is a person or persons who have mistaken a face whether he forgets one or not.

In the cigar factory alluded to is material for as strong an alibi as the most exacting man could desire. At this time George Mann says that Rebell drew a basement through a deadly weapon into the victim the employ of the factory are willing to swear Rebell was sitting at his bench making cigars. They are naturally indignant that a man who was sitting before them at the time the murder was committed, and who should be arrested on a charge of being the murderer.

Mr. J. Jauregui, one of the partners of the firm, whose duty it is to superintend the work-room, is ready to swear that Rebell was not two feet away from him at the time the tragedy occurred. He says: "My desk is there, as you can see near the window, and Rebell's bench was just opposite. On the day of the murder Rebell was at work when I came in the morning. He was a steady man and worked until dinner time, when he went out for dinner. Fortunately for me, perhaps, he did not go alone, but went with Domingo Mendez, Juan Valdes and A. Mendez. The four men sat dinner at the little German restaurant across the street, and came back together in about half an hour. Rebell was not out of this shop at any other time from 9 o'clock to 1 o'clock. The men in this committee, we are told, about 2:30 o'clock, and at that time the men accuse it of was as near to me as you are, right in this shop. Why, I am more guilty than you are."

"The police," continued Mr. Jauregui, "point to the fact that he only made 100 cigars on the day of the murder, and makes 300 and 400 on other days. Besides that it was the day before the election, you remember, and he spent much of his time in the morning about politics, but notwithstanding all this, he really made 125. This was pretty good work for Monday. You will find him to-day who have not made 100 cigars in a day, and on other days, will make 300 easy. I tell you it is an outrage to arrest that man, for he is innocent. He fired the shot, and everywhere he has worked they will speak kindly of him."

Reference to the book of record showed that Rebell had earned $18, the week of the murder, which is a good wage for his stealwork. Domingo Mendez and Juan Valdes, who sit down with him, and had been with Rebell on the only occasion when he left the workshop on the day of the murder. Both these young men occupy benches near the railroad tracks, and by Rebell. Mendez had gone out just before the reporter entered. Solomon Myers, a fellow worker, said that he saw Rebell and spoke of the arrest with some warmth. He said: "Rebell was more intimate with me than most of the others because we joked together. I saw him on the day of the murder, and he was not out of the shop at any time. You see, the boss had of these some time before that because business was brisk, so we determined on that day that we would not go out. Rebell came over to the side of the room occasionally to chat about election matters, and he was, as usual, in good spirits. I saw him with a number of others to dinner, and I can swear he was here in the afternoon and went away about 6 o'clock."

"Why," interjected another workman named S. P. Mann, "that photograph which the boy first identified is the picture of a Cuban general we are told. At any rate it is not Rebell's photograph. We all know that the man was not out of here except for half an hour at dinner time, and even then he was not alone. As we were all together, anything further is necessary, for we are going to go down and see the body in the morgue. He is an innocent man, and while we cannot be used for the crime while he did not come here, we are not feeling long longer they are going to keep him locked up while the police look around a more evasive."

Everybody in the factory spoke highly of Rebell, and none more highly than his employer, Mr. Jauregui. One man declared that he would not stop on a word if he could help it. Another added that although the accused posed great strength he was as gentle as a lamb and never showed the slightest disposition to quarrel. In fact the verdict was unanimous that not only was Rebell innocent, but that the man who was committed, but that he was a kindly-disposed, generous-hearted man, incapable of doing such a murderous act. The fact that the murder occurred on the day before the election makes it comparatively easy for the men to remember events more distinctly than usual.

For Conspiracy.

BOSTON, Nov. 30.—Henry W. Colon and Osmar W. Roper, who were convicted at the last term of court of conspiracy to defraud the Boston & Maine railroad company of $100,000, under the name of M. A. Burbank & Co., were sentenced to three years each in the house of correction.

TRAMPS' DEATH-TRAP.

Building a Fire in a Hut Which Falls and Kills Three.

DALLAS, Tex., Nov. 30.—Six tramps entered a house near Stoughton, Indian Territory, which had been built by section men out of ties, and covered with about two feet of dirt for a rain house. When they entered they built a fire, and all went to sleep lying on their backs.

The fire burned a post down letting the whole structure fall upon the six unfortunate beings killed through outright and injuring the others. The three that escaped were on the side where the burning started, having a lighter weight upon them. One of the men who escaped hastened to Stoughton and notified the section men who proceeded to the scene but being unable to do anything in the way of assistance returned.

The section foreman then proceeded with his men and necessities to bury the dead. They were buried in rough place boxes at the place where the accident occurred. Two men killed were D. M. Liddell, of Carson, Ind.; A. C. Ford, of Auburn, Ky.; and another man, who had nothing on his person or with him could be identified. He was a stranger to his companions, but had told them from California.

SIMPLY AWFUL.

A Brute Outrage—A Girl in the Presence of His Wife.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Nov. 30.—E. J. Telpner, a lawyer, formerly a justice of the peace in Wisconsin, was arrested on a charge of assaulting a sixteen-year-old Swedish girl, Julia Peterson, employed in his family as a domestic.

The girl alleges that she was assaulted five times in succession in the presence of Telpner's wife, who witnessed the same, and made no effort to help her. The girl was taken to Bethany home, where she lies in a critical condition.

He was arraigned in the municipal court, and the case adjourned until next Wednesday. His wife corroborates the girl's story, and says she did not object because she was frightened. Telpner was lodged in the county jail.

About two hundred and fifty angry Swedes gathered on the doors of the building for the purpose of lynching Telpner. The police were called out in force and the mob quelled. Everything is quiet and the case quiet is approaching trial.

LUCAS AND SCHOOLCRAFT.

They Quarrel, Then Fight—Separated.

MOONSVILLE, W. Va., Nov. 30.—The fourth rail shooting in this end of the state during the past week has occurred here. The victim was William Schoolcraft, a well known resident. His slaver is William Schoolcraft. The trouble began when Lucas and Schoolcraft began to quarrel over a piece of land down town, and were only separated after a desperate struggle.

Both men showed vengeance and all the morning mutual friends were engaged in keeping them apart until their passions cooled. About 3 o'clock the two men met and began to quarrel. Schoolcraft drew a revolver, Lucas was unarmed started to run down the street. He had nearly reached a half dozen steps when Schoolcraft fired the ball, striking effect in Lucas' back.

The wounded man threw up his arm and fell to the ground. Schoolcraft was looking through his body. Schoolcraft was locked up. Lucas' wound is fatal.

An Important case.

WATERBURY, Conn., Nov. 30.—Judgment has been rendered in the case of Ziegler vs. the Danbury & Norwalk railroad, tried before Judge Andrews at Litchfield last December. Plaintiff was a Shinn's Creek, Indiana, who was injured on a Shinn's train running on defendant's road by contract for hire.

The conclusion of defendant's attorney, which collided with plaintiff's train, was held responsible for the accident on the ground that Ziegler was a fellow servant with the conductor, and that the decision in this case is considered very important as it establishes a precedent, overruling those of former cases in this country.

A Warehouse Trouble.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 30.—The upper floors of the warehouse No. 136 and 138 South Eutaw street, owned by the Commercial Brokers estate, gave way, and that part of the building tumbled in with a terrible crash. The building was occupied by the Baltimore Cold Storage and Refrigerating company and by Mailing Brothers. The latter firm had $50,000 worth of tobacco stored on the top floor, and the refrigerating company had a large stock of meat on the lower floors, consisting of apple butter, eggs, etc. What the damage to the stock is cannot yet be determined, but it must be heavy. The building is damaged $5,000.

Cattle Men's Convention.

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 30.—The cattle men's convention began a report of the convention committee, which, with a similar committee from Chicago, the association had organized to bring about a consolidation of the cattle men's associations of the United States. This report presented a plan of fusion and it was adopted. The name of the new association is to be the Consolidated Cattle Growers' association of the United States. Upon the adoption of a report up for the order for the election of officers for the ensuing year, Hon. Dewitt C. Moore was chosen president. This practically unites the two associations, though the union is to be perfected when the consolidated associations meet in Chicago next month.

Waiting Business.

READING, Pa., Nov. 30.—The strike in the Western coal fields is greatly benefiting the coal business in this section. At Reading, the E. & G. Brooks Iron company at the former place are going to an expense of $60,000 to improve their plant, and at the latter place the works of the Potomac Iron company are running night and day. The demand for nails far exceeds the capacity of the mills in this section. A large number of men are at work, turning out 1,700 tons of nails daily.

Mr. W. Harlan Cord of Flemingsburg is visiting his mother, Mrs. Baid, in East

Mayville.

Mr. and Mrs. T. S. Quincy, of Chicago, are in town spending a few days with relatives and friends.

Messrs. Ross Mowell and H. H. Davis, of Washington, Penn., are visiting Colonel Gus Simmons, of Aberdeen.

Mr. Robert Stockton, who has been seriously ill with typhoid fever at his home in Georgetown, is slowly improving according to the latest reports from there.

The Bourbon News says: "If the hard-time growlers would stop loafing and go to work for whatever they can get, the country would certainly be more prosperous. There is now to be found a job for every loafer in the State."

The remains of Charles J. Davis and wife, mention of whose tragic death was made in last Saturday's BULLETIN, were brought here from New Orleans Saturday night and were interred at the cemetery yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

The Lexington correspondent of the Courier Journal says: "Mr. Robt. Stockton of Georgetown is reported to be lying at his home in that town dangerously ill with typhoid fever, and the physicians attending on him say there is but little hope of his recovery."

Mrs. Fannie Black and son, Mrs. Lissie Longmore and daughter, Florence, of Covington, and Mrs. Florence Claybrook, of Bourbon County, who have been visiting their father, Mr. W. Worthington, of Fern Lake, passed through town Saturday on their way home.

Death of a Prominent Lady.

The Courier announces with regret the death on Sunday last of Mrs. R. J. Bancroft, daughter of Grandison Pinckard, of Georgetown, and beloved wife of R. J. Bancroft, attorney, Journalist and author of this village. Deceased was born June 4, 1842, and was married at about the age of twenty to Mr. Bancroft, to whom she bore three children, Arthur, William and Mary, all of whom survive her. She was devoted in her religion, strong in her affections, true in her friendships, and faithful in her duties. She was a true, Christian womanly woman, whose death will bring sorrow to every friend in the village. Mr. Bancroft and his motherless children are the recipients of the deep sympathy of the entire town.

The funeral took place at the residence of the family residence at 10:30 this (Tuesday) morning—(Clermont Courier, of Batavia, Ohio).

The deceased was a native of Germantown, and had a host of friends in that end of this county who will regret exceedingly to hear of her death.

Noble Work.

The oyster supper given by the ladies of the M. E. Church, South, at Sardis, Ky., surpassed in every respect anything of the kind ever known in the history of that town. It was the opinion of all that for comfort and beauty of building, no preceding effort had ever equalled it.

The oysters were good and served in ways to suit the taste of every one. The proceeds of this noble work were over $220. The pastor of the church, assisted by the good workers surrounding him has built one new church and paid for it, and is repairing the church in Sardis. It will be comfortable and very neat.

The Iron Interests.

Whether we should finally decide on prohibition or free trade in iron may make considerable difference to the capitalists and iron workers. To the person who suffers from debility and languor the most important question is as to the proper amount of iron in the blood. If this is not present there will be misery, faintness, weakness and wretchedness.

The only reliable iron preparation for the blood is Brown's Iron Bitters, which enriches, strengthens and renews the whole system. Every reputable druggist keeps this price of tonics, and sells it at a dollar a bottle.

The Mammoth Minstrels.

The Cincinnati Enquirer in speaking of the appearance of Baird's Minstrels in that city last February, says:

"A minstrel organization, new to this city, under the management of I. W. Baird, drew very large audiences at their performances at Hucks's Opera House yesterday. The troupe proved an excellent and every member thereof quickly established himself a favorite. The ladies of the city were all well and good, some of them never equalled in this city. The Royal Hunchback Ringers, who sing to the accompaniment of a celestine of silver bells, was a novelty that is indeed a creditable innovation to minstrelsy. To sum up the matter, the whole show made a decided hit, and will be welcomed again by Cincinnati theater-goers."

The above troupe will appear here to-morrow night.

The Protracted Meeting.

The protracted meeting at the Baptist Church is still in progress. The court house was crowded to its utmost capacity last night, and numbers were turned away. There were two additions. The service continues to increase. Services at the church at 3 o'clock, and at the court house to-night at 7 o'clock. Mr. Hale will preach.

Life size photographs on exhibition at Kackley's are made with the European instrument. Call and see them. Nothing better for a Christmas present. n261lm

I. O. O. F. Notice.

All the members of DeKalb Lodge No. 12, are requested to be present at the evening, December 1, 1885. Members of Ringgold Lodge No. 27 are cordially invited to be present. Work in the initiatory degree. GEO. W. ROGERS, N. G. JOHN W. THOMPSON, Secretary.

The Monument Fair.

The Soldiers' Monument Committee has rented the Neptune Hall for the forthcoming fair, which will open Thursday, December 17th, continuing several weeks. The Mayville orchestra has been engaged to furnish music during the fair, and everything will be done to make it a pleasant resort for our citizens.

The matrimonial lever has broken out among our brother editors across the river. Mr. David S. Farbell, of the Brown County Democrat, and Miss Jennie Ellsberry, daughter of Congressman Ellsberry, were united in marriage Wednesday, Mr. Thos. Hamilton, of the Fronton Iron-tonian, followed suit and took unto himself a bride in the person of Miss Anna Cook, an artist of considerable merit, of that city.

JAMES E. MURDOCK, the Nestor of the American stage, will appear at the opera house Wednesday evening, December 16th, in a series of poetic and dramatic recitals. The proceeds are for the benefit of the monument fund. Tickets are now on sale at J. C. Peck & Co., Glenwood & Co.'s, J. J. Wood's, J. W. Blattnerman & Co.'s, George T. Wood's, J. T. Kackley's, and at John Heiser's European Hotel. If you want to hear something elegant, now is your chance.

A report of the estate of Maggie K. Hall was filed by Mrs. L. E. Hite, her guardian, and same ordered.

An inventory and appraisement of the trust estate of Owens & Barkley was returned, examined by the court and ordered to be recorded.

A Card.

To the Editor of the BULLETIN: I wish to express my thanks for the columns my artful friend as pastor of the colored Baptist Church (Plymouth) and also my thanks to my congregation for 20 bushels of corn from Messrs. Owens, Parker & Co., from generous friends. It is highly appreciated. Yours in Christ, E. W. WITHERS.

KENTUCKY NEWS.

The growing wheat in Montgomery and adjoining counties is reported in good condition.

"The Purchase" is a term applied to the Kentucky counties lying west of the Tennessee river since the purchase of that section from some Indian tribes in 1818. General Andrew Jackson was one of the Commissioners representing the United States in the treaty, whence the title, sometimes used, of "Jackson's Purchase." The counties embraced are McCracken, Ballard, Fulton, Hickman, Graves, Marshall and Gallaway. They comprise the greater part of the First Congressional district, are always reliably Democratic and maintain some good newspapers.—(Louisville Commercial.)

LIFE'S UPS AND DOWNS.

In life we meet with joy and woe, Where'er or when we go. A mixture of the good and bad— Fate will it should be so. Just as the flash of lightning success Reverses kill our joy. But life is full of ups and downs Of the elevator.

Perhaps for a time you have mislaid X, If not, own up, the truth will not vex. But if you come again to say in this way, We are having good fun every day— That you will be the loser, if you fail. To come to-night and hear Mr. Hale. And this is a truth that will do to repeat. If you don't come early, you'll not get a seat. X.

PETTICOAT POLITICS.
WOMEN CANVASSING IN T. E. ENGLISH
ELECTIONS.

Baroness Burdett-Coutts Has "Her Willing" Man In "Primrose Leaguers." Town-Talking Little-Tattle-lact
and Discretion-General News.

LONDON, Nov. 30.—The happiest woman
in London is doubtless the Baroness Burdett-Coutts. The most miserable man is the husband of Princess Louise, who having left his native bath to contest the new borough hovering on Hampstead Heath will return to the home of his ancestors with a minority of 575. The reporter saw the baroness several times driving around from poll to poll with her handsome young Philadelphian husband over the very area her celebrated father, Sir Francis Burdett, had represented in the riotous parliamentary days. Her husband, the candidate, had a most anxious look, she a most joyous one, so that it was difficult to believe he was not the senior.

Her ladyship had the pleasure of hearing at half-past six p. m., from the balcony of a town hall she herself had built three years ago, the proceedings of the returning officer that "her William" was elected by a majority of 250. Immediately the "happy pair" drove to their mansion at the corner of Fidelity and Stratton street, and in its brilliantly illuminated salons held an important reception in a style recalling the "Fidelity" days of George by the beautiful Duchess of Devonshire; Pitt, Fox and Sheridan.

Women have had much to do with canvassing in these pending elections. The interference of Miss Milner, cousin of the unfortunate Lady Durham, at the hustings in the city of York undoubtedly caused the defeat of her brother, Sir Frederick Milner. An American maid, angry at the service in the shop of Maple & Co., in the Tottenham Court road,
a number of which firm was a Conservative candidate, canvassed from house to house against him, and he was beaten by only a few votes.

Young and pretty "Primrose Leaguers"
canvassed the Marylebone district for Lord
"Clarke" Bessford, the young naval officer of Egypt, and he was returned at midnight
by a majority of 654. Mr. T. P. O'Connor's
New York wife also bused herself with his Liverpool electors, and was returned saying that Lady Randolph Churchill contributed largely to the comparative success of her husband in Birmingham and to his victory in the West End constituency of Paddington.

Even the help given to the struggling Sir Charles Dilke was the subject for the hundreds of "town-talking" Primrose dames, who repeated in their Chelsea drawing rooms the divorce court scandal, and compelled Sir Charles to indignantly say in the speech made to the electors after his victory: "To the many devices to weaken my hold on the electors was added that of conservative ladies by the hundreds visiting all the houses and repeating lies, little-tattle about my alleged private life, much as wasp sting ruin."

Even the queen driving through Windsor on election day smiled on the electors, knowing that her candidate was the best. Evidently when the question of woman suffrage recurs in the coming parliament much gratitude may favor the suffragettes and votes.

Tact and Discretion.
MADRID, Nov. 30.—The minister of war and minister of the interior, have ordered the provincial officials to use the utmost tact and discretion as long as order prevails, and to take immediate and energetic action
the moment the slightest disorder appears,
and to proclaim a state of siege when necessary.

"Dark Days"—Not Conway's.
LONDON, Nov. 30.—The Times editorially speaking of Spanish affairs, says: "If Spanish statesmen neglect the chance to improve Spain's political position, and give free play to personal ambition, dark days are coming for Spain."

Their Furrough Over.
MADRID, Nov. 30.—The Epoca says that soldiers on furrough have been ordered to regain their regiments immediately.

A BLOODY FIGHT.

Fire Water Boils Over in the Savage
Brawl of Wicklow.

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 30.—News has been received here of a bloody fight among the Indians of Salmon River, in British Columbia. An officer has just arrived at Victoria, having in custody a Salween River
Indian and a squaw, both charged with murder.
The accused was in a drunken fury,
struck an Indian man, and then, brandishing his knife, he killed him, and then he killed his wife with a bar of iron and killing him.
He also fatally stabbed another, then spit
upon the head of an Indian woman.

The father of the murdered Indian, in attempting to take the knife from his drunken son, received a severe cut and a daughter of the murdered man also received several wounds while trying to gain possession of the knife. The rows and murders ceased most intense excitement among the tribe, and the officers had great difficulty in getting the prisoners away alive. Very serious difficulty is feared now among the tribe.

Important Decision.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 30.—In the city circuit court, in the case of The Postal Telegraph company of Baltimore, Judge Fisher decided that the Postal Telegraph company of Baltimore is not bound by the laws of Maryland, but that the receivers here of the Postal Telegraph & Cable company of New York, have a right to claim from the Baltimore corporation, the amount of the latter's indebtedness to the corporation. The wires and poles having been bought and set up by the New York corporation, the receivers of that corporation can recover for them from the Baltimore corporation. The effect of the decision is to make the Postal Telegraph company of Baltimore, liable for its indebtedness, which amounts to about $75,000.

The "Big Four" to Indianapolis.

CINCINNATI, Nov. 30.—It is expected that a very large number of citizens will go to Indianapolis to attend the obsequies of the late vice president. The C. I. St. L. & C.
("Big Four") rate is selling round trip tickets for $2.50 and making extensive arrangements to accommodate the crowd that will take this opportunity of visiting Indianapolis and seeing the President of the United States and his cabinet officers, as well as to witness the ceremonies.

MORAVIAN FALLS, N. C., Nov. 25, 1884.
MR. EDITOR: "An ounce of prevention is better than a pound of cure," and a pound of cure is better than a ship-load of argument in your columns. I saw some time ago an advertisement of a medicine called Bradfield's Female Regulator and the wonderful results from its use, and as I have been a sufferer and invalid for fifteen years from prolonged confinement, severe womb
painful menstruation, and the doctors could
do me no good, I was persuaded to try the remedy. So I sent for two bottles, and the result was most improved so much I sent for another package, and she is now able to do her household work, and goes about where ever she pleases, and is even manly mentally cured. I sent for a lot of this wonderful Female Regulator, and as I have been a sufferer and invalid for fifteen years from
prolonged confinement, severe womb
painful menstruation, and the doctors could
do me no good, I was persuaded to try the remedy. So I sent for two bottles, and the
